

New Journey Community Outreach
138 S 6th Street
Reading, PA 19602
Sue Krall
610-375-2662
skrall@njcoinc.org

NJCO operates the largest soup kitchen in downtown Reading and a weekly food pantry that focuses on the immediate and long-term health implications of receiving a nutritious daily meal and supplemental groceries. Also, a weekly clothing center for individuals and families in need.

Lunch bag dry items like fruit cups, puddings, nutrition bars, applesauce etc. for our take-along lunch bags provided to 200+ individuals and families in need. The lunch bags are being provided in place of a prepared lunch.

Toiletries

New Underwear and socks (adult and children)

Jeans (men, women and children)

Peanut Butter and cereals

Coffee

Belts (men's more than women's)

Donations may be dropped off at the side door.

All types of clothing accepted.

"Back to Work" program accepts donations of business/work clothing, shoes and accessories for interviews.

Looking to volunteer visit www.uwberks.org/volunteer.